Virginia Legislature.

The House of Delegates yesterday passed a Bill, respecting the Navigation of the Roanoke—this bill provides that the Board of Public Works contribute 80,000 dollars to the purposes of the Roanoke Company, provided the Legislature of North Carolina assent to the provisions of this bill.

A bill, "Forming a new county out of parts of the counties of Berkeley & Hampshire," was taken up, and passed—Ayes 74. Noes 65.—The new county is to be called Morgan.

The House resolved itself into a committee of the Whole on the State of the Commonwealth—on the bill, establishing a General Turnpike Law. The Committee sat a considerable time, and made several amendments to the same.

The Senate were yesterday engaged in a discussion of the Execution Law, to which they have proposed some important amendments. The New Bank bill has not yet been reported by the Committee.

Interesting Resolutions.

The following Resolutions are now before the House of Delegates:

Report of the Committee of Schools and Colleges.

On the Report of the President and Directors of the Literary Fund December 20, 1816.

The Committee of Schools and Colleges, have according to order, and under their consideration the Report of the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, made in conformity with a Resolution of the last General Assembly, and have come to the following Resolutions thereupon:

Resolved, That provision should be made by law for dividing the respective counties in this Commonwealth into townships, in each of which there ought to be established one or more Schools.

Resolved, That provision should be made by law for the proper government and endowment of such Schools, when established.

Resolved, That it would be expedient for the present General Assembly to enact a law, laying off this State in districts, each of which in some central and healthy situation, an Academy should be located, to be supported by public endowment.

Resolved, That it is expedient to provide by law for the government of such Academies, when established.

Resolved, that it is expedient a law should pass the General Assembly, giving power to the President and Directors of the Literary Fund to appoint Commissioners whose duty it shall be to purchase, or receive by way of donation, in some healthy and central part of this Commonwealth, acres of land, on which there ought to be established, an University, to be called and known by the name of the University of Virginia.

Resolved, As the opinion of this committee, that it is necessary to prescribe by law the number of Professors to be maintained in the said University.

Resolved also, That all Academies now under the government of Trustees incorporated by law, in which are taught the Latin and Greek languages, Mathematics and Geography, ought to be provided for in the manner recommended by the President and Directors of the Literary Fund provided the Trustees of such Academies subject themselves and their respective institutions to the government of the said President and Directors, in the same manner as the Academies, aforesaid.

The following supplemental resolutions were proposed by Mr. Garnet (of Essex.)—

Resolved, That for the purpose of digesting and carrying into effect the system of public education provided for by the last General Assembly, there shall be elected, septennially by the Legislature, a number of directors who shall constitute a board, to be called "The Board of Public Instruction," and who shall elect annually, their own president and secretary, and such officers as may be required for conducting the business of the board.

Resolved, That the State be divided into a number of districts from each of which one director shall be chosen.

Resolved, That the board of public instruction be authorized to provide a plan for the erection of the university of Virginia, and of such colleges and academies as are already established, or may hereafter be established by law; to create such professorships and to adopt such regulations for the government of the same, as the board may deem expedient.

Resolved, That the president and directors of the board of public instruction shall be the visitors of the university of Virginia; and that they shall have the right of appointing the president and professors of the university and of the several colleges and academies; and to allow them such compensation as they think proper.

Resolved, That as early as possible after their appointment, the board of public instruction shall digest a complete system of instruction, for the University, Colleges, Academies and other Schools.

and shall make such alterations and amendments in the same, from time to time as they may appear expedient.

Resolved, That the board of public instruction shall hold an annual meeting at the seat of the university, in which majority shall constitute a board, that each of the directors, at every meeting, shall lay before the board a report, containing an account of the condition and progress of such colleges, academies and primary schools as are situated in his district; and that the board, shall, at every such meeting, lay a report, exhibiting the progress and improvement of education throughout the Commonwealth.

Resolved, That the Directors of the Board of Public Instruction be authorized to carry into effect, in their respective districts, such improvements in the system of public education as the board, at their annual meeting, shall think proper to introduce.

Resolved, That the president and professor of moral and political philosophy of the university of Virginia, shall ex officio, members of the board of public instruction; but shall have no vote; and that the president shall, at every annual meeting, lay before the board a statement of the actual condition of the university.

Resolved, That the board of public instruction shall be required, from time to time, to recommend to the Legislature the adoption of such laws in relation to the system of public education, as it may appear to them would contribute to its perfection.

Resolved, That the president and directors of the literary fund be authorized to purchase lands for the location and contract for the building of the university colleges and academies, in conformity with such plan for the structure thereof as may be devised by the board of public instruction.

COMMUNICATION.

Extract of a letter from New York, December 27.

CONVICT SLAVES.

Observing in one of our late papers, in account of the transportation of forty convict Slaves, from the State Prison, to the Southern States, and that another vessel is now loading at Perth Amboy, New Jersey, with Blacks, to be transported and sold in your or the neighboring States—I think it highly important your Legislature or Congress should, without delay, pass such laws as will effectually put a stop to this infamous practice, otherwise your State will be degraded, with the most wretched & depraved set of negroes to be found in the U. S. who from their habit and information, can never become good laborers, but just calculated to cause other slaves to become dissatisfied, and excite insurrections.—The practice of purchasing from the States who kidnap slaves, and bring them from Maryland is also to be deprecated and should be prevented.—The Legislature of South Carolina are about enacting a law making it felony to introduce a slave from any state or country, without the express permission of the Legislature—Should you not do the same?

TO PARENTS AND GUARDIANS.

Extract from the Militia Law of the District of Columbia.

Sec. 28. And be it further enacted, that the respective courts of enquiry shall have power to cause to be bound for a term of years to the several commandants of companies, battalions, and legions and their successors in office, as the case may require, such number of boys and young men, with the consent of their parent, or other person authorized, as they in their discretion may think proper, for the purpose of being instructed in the different branches of military music and of serving as musicians when they may be competent thereto to the several companies, battalions and legions; and the father of any youth who may be so bound, otherwise subject to be enrolled, shall be exempt from all duty in the militia so long as such son so bound may continue to serve in the corps to which he would otherwise belong, as well during his apprenticeship as thereafter; and the several legionsary courts of enquiry shall make provision from time to time for the clothing, maintenance, and the properly instructing all such youths, to be paid from the fund arising from the fines imposed by this act; and the commanding officers of legions, shall cause the drummers and fiddlers and other musicians of their respective legions, to meet at the same times and places that commissioned officers are required to meet, for the purpose of being trained by the brigade inspector, or other officer, there to be instructed in their respective branches of music for which purpose the commanding officer of the legion may employ such person or persons as he may think proper and capable to instruct such drummers and fiddlers, and other musicians.

ALEXANDRIA.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 18.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON.

January 16.

Yesterday the compensation law became, once more, the subject of discussion in a committee of the House of Representatives. The first question was on filling the blank left for the daily compensation with eight dollars, which was ultimately negatived. Nine was also proposed and negatived, and six was at last agreed upon. Now nothing can be more clearly demonstrable than this; that if in the year 1789, when the compensation of Six Dollars was appointed by the Congress of that day, six dollars would purchase more of the necessities of life than six dollars would now, and if six be an adequate compensation now, the Congress of 1789 must have wronged their constituents in giving the members so much. But it appears that that Congress was strictly frugal; for the pay of the members had been eight dollars, and they, out of parsimony, reduced it to six. It is but justice however, to suppose, that the allowance was discretely adjusted; and admitting that to be the case, what must candour, what most truth, honor and justice say, of placing it now at the same rate, when the value of money has fallen so extensively. If a member of that day wanted a coat he could get the best for 20 dollars—what is the price now?—at the cheapest tailors in Philadelphia 25—in Georgetown 48 or 50. The hat which he could then get for 4 or 5 is now 8 or 10. And the boot-maker who would then ask 15 dollars for a pair of boots would be treated as a madman. Flour and all the articles of food are more than twice the price they were then! The inference then is irresistible, that either the Congress of 1789 wronged the people, or that the Congress of 1817 are wronging themselves. But the people are dissatisfied!—Only mark the reasoning! The people, residing in places where a family can live in frugality and luxury, on an income, on which in Washington or Georgetown, a single man would starve—in Indiana, for instance, where corn, which in this District is more than two dollars a bushel, can be bought for one dollar 25 cents a barrel—people who live on their farms mostly, and from consequent habits of thinking, can no more form a distinct conception of boarding at 10, 12 or 15 dollars than they can of infinite space—these people, I say, the lords and masters of the sovereignty of the land, say that six dollars a day is enough, and would find some men to say it if beef were two dollars a pound. Mr. Wright urged this with considerable force. At the time Congress settled their compensation at six dollars too, (said he) viz. in 1789, the attorney general had but 500 dollars a year, and he has had his salary raised to 5000 dollars, and some of the very men who denounced the increase of compensation had themselves 70 dollars a day.

Mr. Randolph contended that if the house thought themselves bound to give up the increased compensation, in obedience to the public will, they did not go far enough in simply restoring the old six dollars per diem, but were bound to restore the excess of what they had received over that six dollars a day from the beginning. They owed it to their own honor, dignity and consistency, either to let the matter rest, or to refund the surplus when they repealed the law. How could they account to their constituents for retaining the money which by their own legislative act they had themselves pronounced to be improperly obtained? He made a motion to that effect, the result of which will be known this day.

An expression of Mr. Randolph's, which he had used a long time since, were taken in high dudgeon by some of the gentlemen. When the law was before the house last session it was shrewdly suspected that in the bosoms of some of the dissentients there was a troublesome conflict. And as there was only 15 against the bill on one day, and on the next 69, all nature suggested that of some, the wishes and the votes ran in opposite directions, and that the probability was there might be those whose scrupulousness (as Johnson would call it) would compel them to put their names among the Nays, but would not prevent them from touching the Rags of the Treasury.

Mr. Randolph on that occasion said, he hoped that those who voted against the bill would not draw the Rags of my part (said he) I would as lief be found with my hands in my neighbor's pocket as his, which he could not possibly have said with reference to any particular individual, gave great offence, and the thing was glanced at by several gentlemen to day with visible symptoms of more uneasiness than the thing was supposed to warrant, and by one gentleman (Mr. Ross, with great good humor. Mr. Randolph repeated the expression and scouted the idea of any individual having a right to apply it to himself particularly. This day we shall have more of this incongruous business. I wish it were over, for it is painful to contemplate it.

NEW-YORK, Jan. 15.

The editors of the New-York Gazette are indebted to Mr. Ogden, bearer of Despatches from Commodore Chauncey, for the subsequent interesting information.

By the arrival of the brig Alexander, Captain Simmons, we learn that Commodore Chauncey, in the Washington, 74, Captain Creighton, together with the frigate United States, Captain Shaw, and the Peacock ship of war, Captain Rodgers, were only waiting at Gibraltar for a wind, to proceed up the Mediterranean, to join the remainder of the squadron, which were ordered to rendezvous at Port Mahon, consisting of the frigates Java, Captain Perry, and Constellation, Captain Crane, sloop Erie, Captain Downes, brig Spark, Captain Nicholson, and schooner Hornet, Lieut. Claxon.

Mr. Shaler, our Consul General for the Barbary States, was on board the Washington.

It was the Commodore's intention to proceed to Algiers, to insist upon the ratification of the treaty with the Dey, and to blockade the ports in case of his adhering to his determination of not ratifying it without the brig of war he demanded was given to him.

It was the general opinion, that the Dey would persist in his demand, which would render a reinforcement of our squadron absolutely necessary, to carry the blockade rigidly into execution.

From the moment Lord Exmouth's squadron left Algiers, the Algerines commenced repairing their fortifications under the direction of able foreign engineers, which are nearly completed, and the defects which Lord Exmouth's attack pointed out, perfectly remedied. They have also erected batteries to beat shot, so that the place is considered strong. In fact, the Algerines already say, "Let Lord Exmouth come again, if he dare!"

The Dey has purchased several vessels of war, and is actively employed in re-establishing his navy.

We also learn that the Spanish government were making great exertions to retrieve their affairs in South America, and that Gen. O'Donnel had arrived at Port St. Mary's, with a part of the troops (about 5000 men) destined to compose a strong expedition to Buenos Ayres, from which the most flattering results to the royal cause, were expected.

From the impoverished state of the Treasury, and the deficiency of military supplies some months must probably elapse before this expedition can be fitted out.

We learn by a letter from Liverpool, that the ship Mineva, Skatloff, was to sail for N. Y. on about the 15th of December. Her arrival may be hourly looked for.

Savannah, Jan. 9.

A severe shock of an earthquake was felt here, yesterday morning (a few minutes after three o'clock). It was forcible and continued for at least half a minute. Its direction, by some, is supposed to have been east and west; by others, south west and north east.

LOVE AND MADNESS.

The French papers contain the account of a trial for Murder, remarkable not only from the circumstances which came out in the evidence, but also for the singularity of the verdict of the Jury.

Joseph Simonnot, a journeyman taylor, aged 20, was charged with the murder of his female cousin, Reine Taverny, a lace cleaner, aged 17, residing with her mother. The prisoner, who appeared, had courted the young woman, who at first promised to marry him, but afterwards with-drew her consent. The prisoner ascribed her inconstancy to a new attachment to a man of the name of Vilherme. On the 3d of July he visited her at her mother's, who happened to be absent; and after having chatted with her familiarly at an open window, he all at once laid hold of her by the arm, drew her into the chamber, cry—"I have killed Vilherme, we must die together," and immediately discharged a pistol, which took effect under the right breast. The unhappy young woman, though mortally wounded, disengaged herself from his hold, and uttering piercing shrieks, ran to the window to call for help, where she was seen with her robe all smoking from the occasioned by the wounding of the pistol. The assassin was seized, & the poor girl, after eight days cruel suffering, expired of her wound. When her body was opened, some chewed swan shot were found near the wound. Simonnot, the assassin, who had come to her house provided with two loaded pistols and a dagger, immediately after firing on the girl, stabbed himself with the dagger, but the wound did not prove mortal.

The confrontation of the mother of the young woman with the prisoner, on the trial, produced a heart rending effect on the audience. The prisoner, covering her face, burst into tears. The unhappy mother was excessively depressed. She related all the circumstances which preceded the crime. She had endeavored to persuade her daughter in favour of Simonnot. The evening before the catastrophe, being affected by gloomy & dejected manner, she said to her daughter—"see, it is you who are the cause of his chagrin, and you will perhaps be the cause of his destruction."—"You need not fear," replied the young woman, "men are not so ready to do themselves a mischief."

Simonnot, in his defence, declared that he procured the arms, and visited his cousin with an intention to die in her sight, if she refused to listen to his addresses. Being rejected by her anew, he was no longer his own master, his hand was misdirected, and he fired upon her the pistol with which he meant to destroy himself.

The Jury, in their verdict, declared unanimously that the prisoner had committed homicide on the person of Reine Taverny; by a majority that he did so voluntarily, but not with premeditation.

The Court in consequence condemned the prisoner to perpetual forced labour, the pillory, and branding.

December 31

JAMES KENNEDY & SON,

BOOKSELLERS, KING STREET,
have just received from LEE'S PATENT MEDICINE Store, No. 46 Maiden Lane, N. York.
A FRESH SUPPLY

Of the following genuine Medicines.
For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers, is recommended

Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly gratifying to the inventor's feelings, in several parts of the West Indies, and the Southern Middle States, particularly in N. York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Petersburg, Richmond, Norfolk, Edenton, Wilmington, Charleston, and Savannah. The testimony of a number of persons at each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe, that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives, when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than eulogies of pompous eulogy, founded on mere assertion.

It is not, indeed, presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience, for believing that a dose of these Pills, taken once in every two weeks, during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventative; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases, their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate, and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age. They are excellently adapted to cure of superfluous bile, prevent its morbid secretions—to restore & amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration, and thereby prevent colds which is so often a fatal consequence. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance—they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions of the bowels in their stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of, as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and perfectly inoffensive, and is also mild in its operation, cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old, would no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels, of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

DESCRIPTION OF WORMS.

And the symptoms by which they are known:

Worms which infect the human body are chiefly of four kinds, viz.—The Terebra, or large round worm; the Ascarides, or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina, or short, flat, white worm; and lastly, the Tenia, or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long, and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious; purging, with slimy & fetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; slow fever, with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face coated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success, in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent the vomiting and grating of chint—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys the hands of the infant part of our citizens—likewise the ugliest and most and disordered, and has restored to health and strength a great number, who in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, asthmatic out, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, &c.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellant minerals, (the basis of other lotions) and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c. The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding the natural insensible perspiration, which is essential to health, yet its effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and smooth and improving the complexion.

The Restorative Powder for the teeth and Gums.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, by absorbing all the acrimonious slime and foulness, which is apt to accumulate, never fails to improve and finally ruin them.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative.

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints resulting from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavourable to the constitution, the immoderate use of tea, frequent intoxication, or any other destructive intemperance, the unskillful or excessive use of mercury, the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life, bad lyings in, &c.

HAMILTON'S ELIXIR.

Sovereign remedy for Colds, obstinate Coughs, Asthma, sore throats, and approaching Consumptions, and most disorders of the breast and lungs.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water.

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops.
For the cure of agues, remittent, and intermittent fevers.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.

At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.

ROBBERY.

On the night of the 6th of December 1816, the Exchange Office of the subscriber, Bridge street, Georgetown, from appearances by a false key, was robbed of the following property, in specie, consisting of dollars, change, American and English gold, about 200 dollars; bank notes, mostly three dollar notes of the bank of Washington, and some small tickets, together about 30 dollars, a one pound note of the bank of England, and one hundred and sixty four lottery tickets as per numbers below. The lottery tickets can be of no use to the persons taking them, and an attempt to pass them would only lead to a detection, it is therefore hoped that the person or persons who took them, will return them to the subscriber through the Post Office at Georgetown. A liberal Reward will be paid by the subscriber for any information that may lead to the discovery of the persons or a recovery of the property. All keepers of lottery offices in the United States will please to keep a list of the numbers of the following tickets, as it may lead to a discovery of the theft.

The Life of Patrick Henry.

PROPOSAL
By James Webster, of Philadelphia, for publishing by Subscription,
THE LIFE OF

The late Patrick Henry.

Containing many of his Speeches, &c. Embellished with a Likeness: By Wm. Wirt, Esq. of Richmond, (Va.)
Extract from the Port Folio for August, 1815.

"It is not without a sentiment of sincere gratification that we witness, in the following proposal, arrangements making by a competent hand, to do justice to the character of one of the most worthy and distinguished of our countrymen. As a statesman, a civilian, an orator and a patriot, Patrick Henry was entitled to stand in the foremost rank: Nor do his merits claim an inferior station as a firm, an honest, and an honorable man. He was one of those worthies on whose purity suspicion could never fix a stain.

"If nature did much for Mr. Henry's character while living, accident has not been wanting in its favors to his posthumous fame: for to have found such a biographer as Mr. Wirt, so competent as a writer, and so peculiarly well qualified in every moral relation, is not the least fortunate incident in his history.

"In Mr. Wirt's Life of Patrick Henry we are irresistibly impelled to expect much: the materials being excellent, and in great abundance, and the writer able and devoted to his subject. Nor do we think that the public will run any risk of being disappointed by bearing us company in our high expectations. We hope, and, indeed, have no doubt that the work will receive a liberal patronage."

CONDITIONS.

The work will be printed on a fine paper, in one octavo volume, and will contain from 350 to 400 pages.
It will be delivered to subscribers, in good call binding, at three dollars per copy. The price to non-subscribers will be three dollars and fifty cents.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

Hill and Dale, Fict. county, Virginia, December 30.
Absconded from this plantation on the night of the 24th instant, without the smallest provocation or known cause, a very black young man, named supposed to be about twenty two or twenty three years of age & about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high, strong and robust and broad over the shoulders. He had new cloaths of home made cloth, full of a drab color, but I have some reason to think he sold them and may appear in what is called his Sunday cloaths, the coat of which is brown cloth pretty much worn, but he has other cloaths and may change them. I will give Fifty Dollars if apprehended out of the state of Virginia, and twenty five if taken in the state or district of Columbia and brought home to me or lodged in a jail so that I get him again. Masters of vessels are admonished, at their peril, from taking him on board and conveying him away.

Land for Sale

A tract or parcel of Land, containing between two and three hundred acres, on the north side of Occoquan, in Fairfax county, about 5 miles west of Occoquan mills. It is well watered with never failing springs, it is also well timbered, and the great quantity of fur timber on it renders it the more valuable to any person in the cooperating line. This land is of the middle soil, and produces corn, wheat or any other grain tolerable well—there is about 100 acres cleared and under good fence. The improvements are a log dwelling house & other out houses, and a good apple orchard of about sixty trees.

ALSO.

One other tract in the same county, within three miles of Occoquan, lying on Sandy Run, containing 47 acres—one half in cultivation and under good fence, the remainder heavily timbered. There are on the premises an old framed dwelling house and out houses and an apple orchard of eighty bearing trees.

Any person inclining to purchase can view the premises and know the terms by applying to the subscriber who lives near them.
